

When I went to a football game with my grandma and dad on my birthday

First dad and I went to grandma's we had dinner there. Then we went to the football game. We watched in the second half time. We watched for a while. My grandma and dad cheered for woodside team. Then we went ^{the} looking for a reunion dad had with high school. Then when dad saw some people we sat with them. We saw floats passing by. After we got back from the football game, dad said that the other team won. I did have fun.
